REPRESENTATIVE MILLS TALKS ON WORLD CRISES

Local Congressman Discusses Neutrality Legislation Considered Before Recent Congress.

United States Representative Wilbur Mills spoke at the Tuesday morning chapel exercise on the recent neutrality legislation passed in Congress.

Mills referred to recent history
and pointed out that in 1933 a series of events occurred in Europe which caused the world leaders to fear that a war might come, setting civilization back at least fifty years.

"In 1935, the United States passed the Neutrality Act, which included the embargo on arms and munitions, to serve notice to the world that we did not want to be involved in war and would give no aid to warring nations," Representative Mills said. This was to keep world peace—not to merely keep peace at home. He pointed out that Italy bought vast supplies of arms from us to use against helpless Ethiopia and yet our neutrality law kept Ethiopia from buying from us.

During the Civil War in Spain,
General Franco, insurgent leader,
was supplied by Italy and Germany
while the Loyalists could not obtain supplies from us due to the neutrality law. "Franco must have laughed up his sleeve as he saw our futile efforts to try to keep the world from warring," the Representative said.

Coming to the legislation of the past Congress in the short session, the speaker stated that they passed another law, not to keep world at peace, because it is disrupted, but to keep peace within our own country and government.

He listed some rights the United States had surrendered to maintain peace at home. We gave up freedom of the seas, placing restriction on our ships as to where they can go;
we put on relief the huge maritime fleet and her 250,000 employees; we became isolationists in part.

"Thousands of letters and telegrams poured into Washington, asking us to do something to keep us out of war, and to do it this session," Mr. Mills revealed.

The speaker concluded his speech
by pointing out we need have no war scare as we are not following the paths of 1917, and Germany will not abuse us as she did on the seas in 1917, for present laws prevent our ships, citizens, and finance from becoming embroiled.

He concluded by saying, "The time has come to declare an armistice
on all this war hysteria."

Second Girls' Club Formed By Mrs. Stapleton

Under the sponsorship of Mrs.
Ray Stapleton, a new girls' social club, the Alpha Theta, was organized on the campus Tuesday, November 15.

The officers elected were Enid
Coleman, president; Ruth Bradley, vice-president; Julia Browning, secretary; Pauline Jackson, treasurer;
and Theda Harkelroad, reporter.

Charter members of the club are Ilo Argo, Helen Baker, Ruth Bradley, Lorene Bramlet, Julia Browning, Monabelle Campbell, Enid Coleman,
Ruth Evans, Christella Fard, Reba
Gifford, Theda Harkelroad, Elizabeth Hardwick, Maria Helm, Gretchen Hill, Ruth Jones, Pauline Jackson, Elsie Mae Keaton, Sidie Leslie, Zulema Little, Cora Morris, Erma
McFadden, Oreltha Nichols, Orene
Slaughter, Claudia Russell, and Eva Thompson.

At the first meeting the organization adopted as their colors royal blue and gold. A committee was selected by the president to draw up a constitution to be submitted to the administration.

4-H Club Writing Its Constitution

In a meeting of the 4-H Club Thursday evening, it was decided to reorganize the club so as to include former members of the Future Farmers of America and persons who are vitally interested in the work and purposes of these two organizations.

Doyle Earwood, president of the 4-H Club, appointed Lowell Bland, former national secretary of the Future Farmers of America, to head
a committee to write a constitution incorporating in it the change in membership qualifications; to conduct all meetings in strict parliamentary procedure, guided by Roberts' Rules of Order; to carry out some campus beautification project.

Membership fees were set at .25
a term. Those present were asked to submit a name suitable for the new club.

It was pointed out that most every one should know parliamentary procedure, and that the new organization feels it will be filling this need in advocating this formality.

The president will call a meeting of all interested in becoming members in a few days.

SPEECH CHOIRS TO BROADCAST THIS AFTERNOON

Male Quartet And Wanda Hartsell, Soloist, Will Also
Appear on Weekly Program,
Today.

A new group on the campus, the men's speech choir, will make its first public appearance on the radio program this afternoon.

The choir, not formally organized as yet, is composed of a dozen boys with flexible voices suitable for speech choir work. They will interpret "Jesse James," under the direction of Mrs. J. N. Armstrong.

Those in the choir are Leonard
Kirk, Bernoid Bailey, John Mason, Elmer L'Roy, Kenneth Davis, Harding Paine, Robert Rainwater, Jack Nadeau, Leonard McReynolds, Vernon Boyd, Floyd Chubb, Kern Sears, Jack Wood Sears, Lloyd Brents,
Carlton Hocutt, Earl Priest, Earl
Stover, and Paul Keller.

The women's speech choir, assisted by Kern Sears and directed by Mrs. Armstrong, will present "The Soldier and the Maid." Those in the choir are Mable Traylor, Annette Bean, Mary Alberta Ellis, Frances
Williamson, Nell O'Neal, Louise
Nicholas, Mildred Leasure, Elsie Mae Keaton, Frances Stroud, Margaret Lakatos, and Ann French.

The men's glee club of 35 voices
will present "John Peel," and old English hunting song, "Drink to Me
Only With Thine Eyes," "Shall I Wasting In Despair," and "I've Been Listening," a negro spiritual.

"Smilin' Through" by Penn and
"When Song is Sweet" by Sans Souci will be offered by the male quartet and the program will close with the singing of "Because" by Wanda Hartsell. Robert Rainwater will announce the program.

Club Organized By Kitchen Force

All students working in the kitchen and dining hall of the college club met Tuesday night October 24th at 7:30 to form a new organization.

This club has as its officers: President, Housin Itin; Vice-president, Lourelia Whitten; Secretary-treasurer, Frances Novak. The sponsors are Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Thornton.

At the second meeting on Tuesday, November 14th, purposes of the clubs were discussed. One of the most outstanding is the cooperation of all workers with one another to help work run smoothly. They also intend to have entertainments quite often due to the fact that those who work in the kitchen and dining hall frequently have to give up many pleasures that those not working participate in regularly.

The importance of each job to which a student may be assigned was stressed. It was stated that some of these are the most responsible jobs on the campus.

After the business was discussed
an emblem was presented for approval and accepted. Then plans were made for an entertainment in the near future. The committee appointed for this was Eva Jo Brown,
Olive Fogg, Don Healy, and Milton
Poole.

The night will be selected at the next club meeting Tuesday night.

Armstrong Discusses Way To Happiness On Air Sunday

Using "The Way of Happiness" as his text on the regular program over station KLRA, Dr. J. N. Armstrong stressed faith in God and in His Word as the means of securing this way of happiness.

One should be content with what he has and not be a money chaser;
he should trust in God and read His Word, such was the substance of Brother Armstrong's talk.

He invoked his audience, which spreads all over the country according to letters received, to read the Bible as the true word of God, not as the mere writings of man. If we will read the gospel in such a manner, he said, we will undoubtedly find that way of happiness.

Besides the main feature of the program, Dr. Armstrong's speech, the Harding hymn singers sang
several gospel songs

Taylor Speaks In Chapel Services

J. L. Taylor, Superintendent of Searcy High School, was the chapel
speaker, Wednesday, November 15.

His subject was "The Marks of an Educated Man." First he advanced the idea that education is a continuous process. "School is not a place to get an education, it is a place to begin to commence to get an education," said Mr. Taylor.

"Reading is a road to knowledge, and an educated person has broadening interests and his education does not stop when school is out,"
he stated.

He stressed the fact that an educated man is one who can take criticism. A student who has concentrated on an improved study schedule will more efficiently gain an education, Mr. Taylor pointed out.

In closing he said, "Education is a continuous process. There can be no standing still. We are either progressing or stagnating."

Lambda Sigmas Visit Red Bluff

Leaving the campus at 6:00 o'clock Monday morning, the Lambda Sigmas and their dates accompanied by Prof. Dykes and Miss Elsie Mae Mopper went on their annual fall outing.

The members and their dates were as follows: L. D. Frasier and Iva Farris, Cortez Ehl and Mabel Dean McDoniel, Granville Westbrook and Jewel Blackburn, Maurice Hinds and Frances Williamson, Emerson Flannery and Elizabeth
Arnold, Louis Green and Aleatrice
Freeze, Gorman Wilks and Marie Brannen, J. P. Thornton and Fern Vaughan, Wright Stroud and Betty Bergner, Jack Nadeau and Louise Nicholas, Harold Kohler, and Mildred Cleek, William Sanders and Miss Mary Elliott, Max Turner and Ann French, Lloyd Brents and Annie Gould Sawyer, Earnest Mitchell and Enid Coleman, and Walter Larkins.

SOCIAL LIFE

Most of us came to Harding with the purpose in mind of obtaining an education—fitting ourselves for responsible places of service in this world. Of course we entertained ideas that on the side we would have some diversion, some kind of extra-curricula for recreation if nothing else. But we believe the majority of students at Harding are majoring in "club work" and minoring in class work.

On this campus we cannot say, "Everyone a king." But we can nearly say, "Everyone a president," for we have close to forty social clubs, classes, state clubs, and other species of organizations. This would average about ten members to the club if we equally porportioned Harding's enrollment.

Many, however, are members of five or six clubs. Some are president of two or more clubs. Do you believe any one carrying his class work and other duties can efficiently and aggressively steer the course of two or three clubs at one time? Somewhere something is going to be slighted.

We have as much activity going on at Harding as any college of 1,500 to 2,000 enrollment. We are engaged in meetings, outings, parties and what have you a great deal of the time. Even President Benson has difficulty in keeping two nights a week open for students to study. And even they are not open every week.

We all like these club activities, but let us not forget our real purpose here at Harding and prepare a lesson occasionally.

ASSOCIATIONS

Do we make the most of our associations or our chances to get just a little better acquainted with some one, or do we stay in the same group all the time and let our associates remain the same and our acquaintances limited?

For instance, do we at mealtime eat with the same group regularly, just because we have formed a habit of doing so and because we know the ones in this group better? Why not enjoy our meals with a different group every day and form a more well rounded personality. By changing about we get into a different realm of thought and diversion.

If there's someone or something we want to know a little more about, maybe someone here is widely acquainted or adequately versed in the subject, and upon this the others can make their contributions to which some valuable conclusion may be reached. Consider, moreover, the fun and knowledge. Who knows, we may have new and lasting friends.

Meditations

MABLE DEAN McDONIEL

From the beginning I have meant to make this column my own in originality, without borrowing ideas. I realized, of course, that my ideas weren't as well said as others, but the ideas of other people may be found in other places and mine cannot.

What others have said concerning:
Greatness:
"He is not great who is not greatly good."
—Shakespeare
"For he that once is good is ever great."
—Johnson

Wisdom:
"Wisdom is the principle thing; therefore, get wisdom and in all thy getting, get understanding."
—Solomon

Happiness:
"Real happiness is cheap enough, yet how dearly we pay for its substitutes."
Kindness:
"Kindness in women, not their beauteous looks will win my love."
—Shakespeare

Character:
"The diamond that scratches ever other stone."
"Character is what we are in the dark."

Ability:
"Those who can think they can." —Virgil

Courage:
"Few people have courage enough to appear as they really are."

Meditation:
"A building to God of chapel on our hearts."

How some of us old Poetry Clubbers long for the days of Ama Lou, Zelma, and Sam—when it comes to judging the poetry submitted.

I'll never forget their criticisms that made us, new at he game, determined to write something—just to show them.

One of the hardest things is to sit down with a pile of books that must be studied while the roommate goes to the show.

Sneering, foolish laughter,
Scornful, brazen looks,
A cynic's smile;
The amused, insolent
Sneer on the face
Of those who feel superior,
Arouses such resentment
Within my heart
I can but guard my lips
From uttering—"Fools!"

With Other Colleges

Hendrix College recently held its fifty-fifth homecoming.

Huron College of London, Ontario, is the smallest college in the world. It has 20 students and five professors.

Arkansas A. and M. College at Monticello, has a new subject, busology. Busology teaches geography, English, economics, history, spelling, and mathematics by practical experience. The class goes sight-seeing and in this way they learn facts about the many things that are of interest in the U. S. A.

A bronze plaque in the library and an annual scholarship prize will be the University of Arkansas' memorial to the late John C. Futrall, president of the university for 26 years prior to his death in September.

Arkansas University debaters will meet a British debate team December 12 at the University. The University debaters will uphold the question, "Resolved: That the American foreign policy shall be one of complete isolation."

An item in the exchange column of last week's Bison was especially interesting to me. The "A" Club of Abilene Christian College is sponsoring a campaign for the purpose of a recording machine for the speech department of A. C. C.

The value of such a machine is readily apparent. Making records of a student's voice, then playing the records back while he listens would show the student just how he sounds to other people. It would give him a better idea of his speech defects and thus enable him to concentrate his work on these weak points.

Many motion picture stars and opera singers use this recording machine method to overcome voice difficulties. Speech and dramatic teachers everywhere use it in their classes. The basic maxim of many speech teachers is "When a student hears his own voice improvement begins," and the use of a recording machine is thought to be the bes way to show a student how his voice sounds.

Not only would a recording machine be a tremendous aid to the speech and dramatic departments, but other departments of the school could use it to a good advantage. It would solve many of the problems of radio sound effects, as well as the effects used backstage during a play in the auditorium. The foreign language teachers would no doubt find it a help to them.

With all due credit to the "A" Club for its initiative, let us bring the idea home to Harding. Are we, as an acknowledged leader among the Christian colleges, going to stand idly by and let ourselves be pushed into the background by Abilene? We are recognized as ranking high in dramatics, speech work and debating. Are we to yield our position without a struggle, without even a casual comment? I, for one, don't think we will. That isn't the Harding spirit, nor is it the Harding way of doing things. To me—and I believe the same holds true for the entire school—the question is not "Shall we get a recording machine?" but, instead, is "Which will get a machine first, A. C. C. or Harding?"

Plans are being made for certain of the student groups on the campus to sponsor a recording machine campaign. These plans, as yet incomplete, should be ready for publication in next week's column.

The Glee Club takes the air for the first time on the radio program this afternoon. Several selections will be given, including one negro spiritual. Professor Kirk says that the glee club is in excellent shape, and that their performance this afternoon should be very good.

GODLINE

by Mac Timmerman

"And exercise thyself unto godliness." What is godliness? To put it in everyday language, it is to be like God. If we are to become more like Him, we must watch Him and walk in his footsteps.

Let us see what God is:

(1) He is a God of love, as Christ tells us in John 3:16. We should love God and our neighbor.

(2) He is a God of mercy—He sends the rain on the just and the unjust. If we are merciful, we shall obtain mercy. (Matt. 5:7)

(3) He is a God of peace (II Cor. 13:11). If we are peacemakers, we shall be called the sons of God. (Matt. 5:9)

(4) He is a God of care. Many have used the 139th Psalm to show the omnipresence of God, but I also see in it His care for us. He doesn't want us to stumble. Therefore, we should care for those who err from the pathway of righteousness as God would care for us.

(5) He is a God of longsuffering (II Pet. 3:9). Also in this verse we can see His patience. Let us follow His example in this also.

Many others could be named, such as forgiveness, kindness, gentleness, and fear. But now that we have shown the things we must be or do to have godliness added to our faith, let us see what godliness profits us:

(1) It helps us in sorrow—we should not be sad when our loved ones die; that is, if they are Christians.

(2) It prepares us for death—if we have godliness, we need not be afraid, for we will enter the portals of heaven where the sun never ceases to shine.

(3) It keeps us from sinning—sin, with all its horrors and consequences, is revealed to us, and we seek to abstain from it.

(4) It helps us to live peacefully and contentedly in very walk and circumstances of life.

We see that godliness prepares us for every hardship and every problem of life, besides helping us to attain unto eternal life. Jesus our Saviour, sums up what we should be in Matt. 5:48: "Be ye, therefore, perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect."

The "Campus Players of the Air" return to the mike today, with a male choir doing chorus work. Only one selection, "Jesse James", by W. R. Bennett, is scheduled. It is a short characterization of the outlaw Jesse James, written with a rollicking, exaggerated, rhythm and is excellent for chorus work.

Four Girls' Clubs Have Initiation Ceremonies Honoring Pledges

Mu Etti Adelphian

Simplicity and originality were the distinguishing marks of the candle ceremony with which the Mu Etti Adelphian club formerly initiated six new members Saturday evening at seven o'clock in the reception room of Godden Hall.

Candle light brought out the simple decorations of the room which were in black and white, the club colors. Triple candlesticks on the mantel over the two large fireplaces were reflected in the mirrors behind, creating a beautiful scene.

Mrs. Florence Jewell, sponsor, gave a welcome to the group. She then read, while muted violin music was furnished from a distance by Mr. Claude Guthrie, each virtue on the candle of the old members and explained why each girl possessed that particular virtue.

As each new member came forward she was presented with her virtue and candle which she lighted from the candle of the club president, Mabel Dean McDoniel. The six girls initiated into the club by this ceremony were Marion Graham, Dorothy Hinds, Helen Holland, Bonnie Belle Rose Rose, Doris Cluck, and Raylene Thornton.

As every girl stood with lighted candles, Solomon's description of a virtuous woman was read from the thirtyfirst chapter of Proverbs by Miss McDoniel. After she earnestly requested that each girl keep her candle lighted always in her heart, the flames were extinguished.

A short program consisted of a piano solo by Mary Agnes Evans and two numbers, "I Saw You Go By" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," sung by Mrs. Jewell and Mr. Leonard Kirk.

A short social hour was then enjoyed, and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Ju Go Ju's

On Saturday evening, Nov. 18, in the lovely living room of Mrs. Sears home, the Ju Go Ju's formally initiated their new members.

The guests were received by Mrs. Sears, assisted by Charline Bergner, and Lillian Walden.

The ceremony was a simple but sincere and beautiful candle light service. "Follow The Glean" was softly sung during the service. The ideals and motto of the club were given followed by a poem, "If for Girls" by Kipling as read by Charline Bergner.

After a short business meeting refreshments were served.

The rooms were decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums and gayly colored fall leaves.

L. C.'s

In honor of their pledges the Las Companeras entertained with a dinner at the Mayfair Hotel, Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The welcome was given by Leah Barr, president and the response by Maxine Paxson. Short speeches were made by Miss Fern Hollar, sponsor, and each member of the club.

After the dinner the guests were escorted to the banquet hall where games were played and a program was given.

Decoration consisted of colorful fall leaves and yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Those present were Pauline Johnson, Jerry Farrar, Marian Camp, Wanda Luttrell, Maxine Paxson, Winnie Jo Chesshir, Annette Bean, Josephine Stewart, Leah Barr, Nancy Salners, Evelyn Chesshir, Maude Emma Webb, Elaine Camp, Marie Brannen, Virginia McDaniel, Connie Ford, Ann French, Margaret Lakotas, and Miss Fern Hollar.

W. H. C.'s

The Kitchenette was the scene of a lovely entertainment, Thursday evening at 5:00 o'clock when the old members of the W. H. C. club entertained their pledges.

Margaret Alston, sponsor, read constitution and at the conclusion of the initiation delicious refreshments were served to the following: Hazel Gregg, Norman Marcus, Mary Starnes, Olivene Merritt, Edan Ruth Hocutt, Louise Nicholas, Lola Harp, Virginia O'Neal, Marjorie Lynch, Edith Landis, Mildred Leasure, Nell O'Neal, Ruby Hill, Sarah Halbrook, and Margaret Alston.

Frosh Theatre Party

"At the Circus" with the Marx Brothers was the center of amusement Thursday evening at a theater party for the freshman class.

Those who attended were Robert Rainwater and Christella Ford, Clifford Ganus and Roberta Walden, Charles Huddleston and Laverne Moore, Lowell Farmer and Winnie Jo Chesshir, Harold Pinkston and Mary Starnes, Paul Keller and Mabel Traylor, Wright Stroud and Betty Bergner, Bob Cronin and Mary Etti Langston, Bonnie Bell Rose, LaNelle Keckley, Juanita Seimers, Nell Felker, David Swaggerty, Buster Locke, Harding Paine, Thomas Ward, and Guy Goodwin.

Dean Sears, class sponsor, chaired the group.

R. F. C.'s Entertain

Fayette Coleman entertained the R. F. C.'s and their dates at a Kid Party at her home on North Grand Avenue Saturday night. The guests came dressed and played games as "kids". The highlight of the evening came when Wayne Smethers won the baby doll. Misses Marilyn Thornton and Ruby Hall assisted the hostess. The guests were Vivian Smith and Keith Simmons; Mary Brown and MacTimmerman; Bonnie Sue Chandler and Wayne Smethers; Marilyn Thornton and Clifford Ganus; Ruby Hall and Dennis Harris; Dorothy Brown and Don Healy; Juanita Weavers and Clark Stevens; Fayette Coleman and Milton Poole.

Debaters To Be

Arkansas State College is bringing its debate squad here Friday 24 to meet the Harding debaters. Two teams will represent each school.

Coach Sears selected Wendell Hall and Orvid Mason as the affirmative team for Harding, while S. F. Timmerman and Emerson Flannery are to handle the negative.

The question for debate is Resolved: That the United States should follow a policy of strict economic and military isolation toward all nations outside the Western hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict.

This will be the first debate of the season and will be held in the auditorium.

Mack Greenway, Guy Thompson, and Vance Greenway were recent visitors on the campus.

Razorbacks Win Two Games To Stay In First Position

Leaders Defeat Packers 18 to 0

Jack Lay's Razorbacks added another victory to their undefeated column by trouncing the Greenbay Packers 18 to 0.

The Razorbacks opened up in the second quarter and scored six points after both teams failed to score in the first. Again in the third quarter the Razorbacks added six more points by a long pass to Ex Berryhill. Late in the fourth quarter Johnny Greenway blocked a punt and Doug Harris carried it over for the final touchdown with their goal line still uncrossed. Rhodes and Pryor were outstanding for the Packers.

Officials: B. Harris, Ref.; Roe, Ump.; Chubb, Head linesman; Berryhill, Time Keeper.

Razorbacks 18, Redskins 0

Amid rain and darkness the Redskins were unable to break the Razorback's winning streak when they were defeated 18 to 0.

Despite the rain and the darkness the Razorbacks plunged hard for three touchdowns to place their winning streak at seven. Bennett caught a pass for the first tally in the first quarter. In the last half Jack Lay tallied two touchdowns on running plays. The game was slow with both teams receiving several penalties.

Officials: B. Harris, Ref.; Roe, Ump.; Dykes, Head linesman; Hopper, Time Keeper.

Giants 6, Bears 12,

Coming from behind in a third quarter drive the Bears defeated the Giants 12 to 6.

The game was filled with running and passing plays. Lynn Buffington intercepted a pass in the second quarter and crossed the goal line to put the Giants out in front. In the third quarter "Nubbin" Roe intercepted a pass on his own one yard line and was touched there. The Giants attempted to punt but it was blocked and covered by Hopper behind the goal line. With the score tied the Bears came back again in the fourth to score on a pass from Buck Harris to Ganus. Roe and Officials: Bell, Ref.; D. Harris, Ump.; E. Berryhill, Head linesman; Berryhill, Time keeper.

Redskins 7, Tigers 0

Breaking their losing streak, the Redskins won their second game of the season by defeating the Tigers 7 to 0.

The game was slow, with neither team gaining much yardage through the air or on the ground. Several short passes were completed, but only two long passes being successful.

Late in the fourth quarter Buffington passed to Spencer for the first tally of the game. A pass from Buffington to Spencer counted for the extra point.

Girls' Awards

Forty girls will receive awards in intramurals this year. There will be fifteen to receive first place awards and twentyfive will receive second place rewards. Miss Alston says there is plenty of time yet to point toward winning one of these awards, if the participant is willing to work.

Myrene Williams, Wailana Floyd, and Jewel Blackburn are leading at present with ten points each. Girls having points are Valda Montgomery, Pauline Reid 3, Eva Jo Brown 6, Odean Floyd 6, Connie Ford 3, Mary Agnes Evans 3, Esther Maple 8, Jo Stewart 3, Lillian Walden 3, Dorothy Hinds 3, Teddy Murphy 6, Doris Cluck 3, Roberta Walden 6, Louise Nicholas 7, Bonnie Chandler 2, Esther Harner 2, Vernice Burford 5, Frances Williamson 7, Cora Morris 2, Mary Elizabeth Skidmore 2, Frances Novak 2, La Nelle Keckley 7, Marjorie Meeks 7, Mary Charlotte Bates 2, Wilma Collins 3, Mary Alberta Ellis 5, Edith Hulet 5, Pauline Jackson 5, Wailana Floyd 10, Mary Dell Williams 5, Myrene Williams 10, Ina Jo Crawford 5, Jewell Blackburn 10, Lola Harp 8, Eva Thompson 5, and Olive Fogg 5.

FOOTBALL

With only two more weeks of play it looks like the Razorbacks and the Bears are going to be the one's to fight it out for top position, with the Razorbacks having the edge on the Bears. The latter team has not lost any games while the Bears' show one loss and one tie. Each has three more games to play, and anything can happen. These other teams can't be left out of the running, for they are going to be out there trying to stop the Bears and Razorbacks if they possibly can; this might mean something for them in the long run. Now if you will just look back at the scores you will see that with very few exceptions these other teams have only been beaten by one or two touchdowns. Some of the best plays made in the past week were turned in by Cliff Ganus and Buck Harris of the Bears, A. W. Bennett and Jack Lay of the Razorbacks, Dan Spencer and Leland Waters of the Redskins. Cliff Ganus, a late reserve for the Bears, made some of the best successes in receiving passes that I have seen this year.

GIRL'S LONG BALL

It seems that the girls have a hard time in getting their intramural program started. Bad weather stopped their archery and then their volley ball program had its troubles, but now they have started Long Ball instead and are getting along all right too. It looks like the Powerful Katrinka's have the edge on the Peppette's. May nothing happen to cause any of them bad luck and may the best team win!

SWIMMING

I believe that I have said nothing on this subject this year. How many of you enjoy a good "ol" swim? Well, take it from me there isn't another exercise that will do you as much good as will swimming. Last year we had several tournaments scattered throughout the year, enjoyed by all who attended. And along with the swimming duels we had some fancy diving by Buck Harris and Houston Hopper. Summer before last Buck took first in diving at the National Guard Camp, with Houston bringing in, second place. Later on in the summer Houston took first in a meet at Little Rock and Buck took second, so you see we do have some real good swimmers in school. Let's talk it up and try to get a tournament before the holidays.

SPORT FLASHES

Searcy and Conway play to a nothing to nothing tie....It rained throughout the game....Giants and Tiger game called on account of rain....It looks like the Arkansas Razorbacks are back in their stride since their victory over S. # Searcy Lions Battle Coway To Scoreless Tie In Mud

Rain and more rain is what the Searcy Lions and the Conway Wampus Cats saw last Friday night when they battled to a 0 to 0 tie.

Searcy was in possession of the ball almost all of the first half. Early in the first quarter the Lions had the ball on Conway's five yard stripe but just couldn't carry it over. Matthews punted out but again the Lions drove deep into the Cat's territory.

Guy Davis, powerful back for the Lions, was taken out of the game in the second quarter with an injured knee.

In the second half the Wampus Cats took the offensive, when they started their drive toward pay dirt that stopped when they fumbled on the twenty yard line on Searcy's end of the field. Hilgers punted out of danger with a kick of 60 yards.

Both teams gained about the same amount of yardage from scrimmage, but the Lions gained a little on exchange of punts. Both made four first downs, with the Lions getting all of theirs in the first half and the Wampus Cats getting theirs in the last half.
